Dedicated to . . .

Morton D. Weinert

In Memoriam

On October 8, 1982, Mr. Morton D. Weinert, Assistant Headmaster of Mathematics at Boston Latin School, died at the V.A. Hospital in Brockton, Mass.

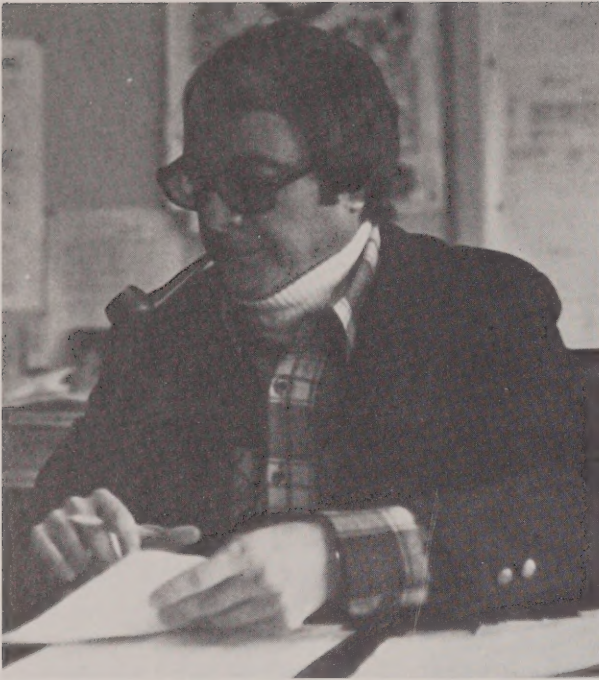

Mr. Weinert was a graduate of Boston Latin School in 1934, Harvard University in 1938, and Boston State College in 1939, where he earned a Masters Degree in Education. In 1962, he returned to Harvard and earned another Masters Degree.

Following his military career as an Intelligence Officer during World War II, Mr. Weinert entered the teaching profession and spent thirty-eight years as a teacher of mathematics. He taught at the U.S. Military Preparatory School, the University of Massachusetts, Boston University, Lincoln College (Northeastern University), and, for the past thirty years, at Boston Latin. Mr. Weinert was also a member of many mathematical organizations, including The National Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the Association of Advanced Placement Teachers.

The thousands of students he taught recognized that he had a firm grasp of his subject matter, that he was able to import this knowledge to them, and that he was always willing to interrupt his own work in order to assist a student in need. His fellow teachers knew him to be a quiet, fair, and gentle man.

For his many achievements and his dedication to the many students he taught, we dedicate this program to Mr. Morton D. Weinert, teacher and Assistant Headmaster of Mathematics at Boston Latin, 1952-1982.

LATIN

Thanksgiving is traditionally a time when family and friends gather to reflect on the previous year's successes and disappointments. For a brief period, our attention is diverted from the many problems that confront us daily. Thanksgiving is also the time to rekindle the spirit and pride that exists between the two oldest public school football rivals in the nation. As we gather for the ninety-sixth annual playing of the Latin-English football game, it is impossible for us not to reflect on the many great moments that this fine competitive rivalry has provided for all of us. It is especially pleasing to note the increased attention that this game has generated for the past two years. As we in the Boston Public Schools begin to put our house in order, it is essential that the tradition of academic excellence and athletic achievement associated with both venerable institutions be supported and reinforced. May I take this opportunity to thank the coaches, players, parents and friends of both institutions for their continued support. A special thanks to the members of the Latin Gridiron Club for their efforts this years in support of our various athletic activities. Happy Thanksgiving to all!

Michael Contompasis
Head Master

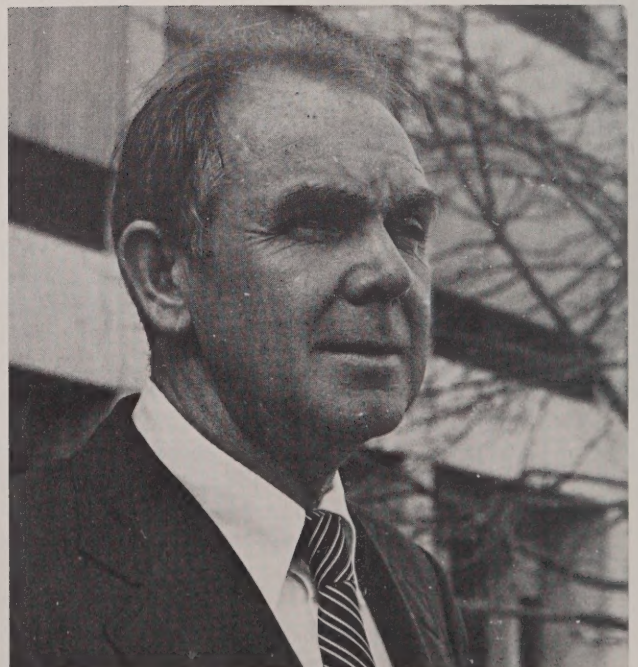

ENGLISH

At the 96th meeting of the young men of the English High School and The Latin School, I am thankful, as an Alumnus of English High, for the good fortune to be designated as Acting Head Master of this school. We are at a critical point in this City's educational history. In only four years we will observe the 100th anniversary of this classic athletic contest. At that time let us hope the new beginning we are now experiencing will have returned this school to its position of educational excellence.

So now in this Thanksgiving Day, I extend the best wishes of the entire English High Faculty to the Blue and Blue of English and the Purple and White of Latin. I am confident that, as in the past, they will play an exciting and memorable game. May the best team win.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING!

James B. Corscadden '47
Acting Head Master

Coach Costello's Statement

The 1982 BLS football season has been a memorable one. It marked the end of our existence as an independent and our acceptance into the Dual County League.

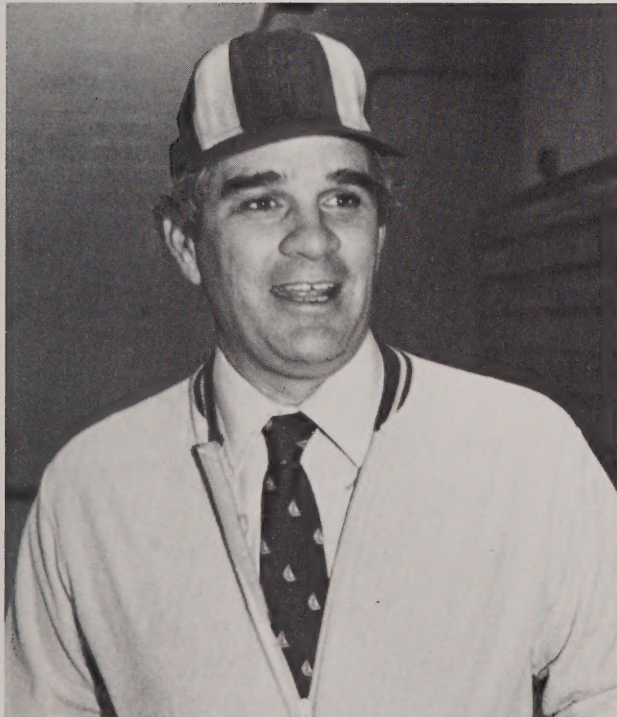

A young and inexperienced Wolfpack team took the field in early September and excelled beyond anyone's expectations. It has been an exciting and fun-filled season.

I would like to thank my players for their hard work, sacrifice and dedication to Latin School football. It has truly been a pleasure and a privilege to have coached such a fine group of young men.

To my fine coaching staff of Mike Browne, Bill Davis, Frank Stevens and John McDonough a special thank you for your extra efforts which made it all possible.

Finally, I would like to extend my sincerest appreciation to the parents of our newly formed Wolfpack Gridiron Club for their unending support and help this season.

Paul F. Costello
Head Coach Latin

Coach Parker's Statement

The 1982 edition of English High School has been short on victories but I would like to congratulate our team members for not giving up and we will be present on Thanksgiving morning at Nickerson Field for our annual meeting with a fine Boston Latin team.

Keith Parker

James Egan Receives Photo From President

James G. Egan

PRESIDENT RONALD W. REAGAN

*Ronald Wilson Reagan our 40th President
Defeated Jimmy Carter to become the White House resident
While California's Governor his efficiency
Built up that state's depleted treasury
His Nation's recession and inflation
Caused him to try reversing the situation
Although the victim of an attempted assassination
He recovered due to his rugged constitution
Reagan sought changes in the Federal Economy
He gained Bi-partisan aid a passage necessity
Thus attaining a sweeping victory
Which shows him to be a man of destiny.*

By James G. Egan
AMVETS National Poet Laureate
Massachusetts Department Poet Laureate

MALDEN — President Ronald Reagan has sent an autographed photograph of himself to Amvets National Poet Laureate James G. Egan of 630 Salem St., Malden.

Printed below the photo of the president standing by the American Flag it reads: To James Egan with Appreciation and Best Wishes, and is signed Ronald Reagan.

A verse written by Egan on the president some time back appeared recently in the Amvets Massachusetts Convention Book and a copy was sent to President Reagan. The President is an Amvet member of Amvets Post 8 of Sacramento, California. In the photo above, Egan is shown holding the photo of the President.

Having written verse on all American presidents, Egan has heard personally from the last five. His work has been adopted by 43 foundations pertaining to presidents across the nation. Senator Kennedy has commended him three times on his President Kennedy. Sen. Edward W. Brooke read his President Eisenhower into the Congressional Record.

The Boston English High School has named the tenth floor the James G. Egan Poet Laureate Area. He was alumni president two years and Class of 1925 president two years. At present he is Poet Laureate of the school. The Blue & Blue official poem, The Boston English High School, was written by Mr. Egan.

Some of Egan's poems have appeared in the International Clover Poetry Association Volume of Verse. Egan was awarded their Gold Certificate with the title of Danae from Greek Mythology.

Also America's oldest military unit, the 182nd Infantry Association dating back to 1636, has Mr. Egan as their Poet Laureate. He is author of their official verse, Men of the 182nd. In 1965 this was passed by Maj. Gen. Timothy J. Regan, adjutant general of Massachusetts and Gen. Richard J. Quigley, commanding the 26th "Yankee Division."
